Policy Overview:

The updated guidance and new policy measures are intended to replace the current Visitor's Policy and will be in operation from April 2020. Amendments to this guidance will be considered alongside National Guidance and the current situation relating to the Covid-19 outbreak. The amendment will be updated as necessary. In a changing environment this guidance documentation will be updated and the latest updated version will be considered to be the current accepted policy document relating to the Trust's position on Visiting.

All visiting at this time is suspended across the hospital sites except in the circumstances outlined below. This is to ensure the safety of our patients and our staff and to minimise the effect of an outbreak in the hospital and the community.

Background:

The Trust took the difficult decision on 8th April 2020 (at the start of the COVID 19 Pandemic - phase 1) to suspend visiting for all patients with the exception of compassionate visiting.

Compassionate visiting arrangements are only permissible with strict IPC protection and include the following groups:

- One family member to visit their loved one in hospital if the patient is considered to be near to the end of their life
- One parent to accompany their child if the child requires treatment at hospital
- One birthing partner to support the birth of their child
- As of 01.06.2020, two parents are allowed to visit their baby on the neonatal unit as long as the 2 metre social distancing rules and the wearing of face masks is in place
- One person may visit to support a patient who has dementia, a learning disability or autism, if this visitor not being present would cause the patient to be distressed. This person would be considered as a carer
- One person may, where the ward manager or nurse in charge agrees it is in the patient's best interests and at a time and date arranged in advance, visit a patient with a mental health condition if required to support the patient's well-being or decisions about their care. This person would be considered the carer

Accident and Emergency Arrangements:

- Anyone accompanying a patient to A&E will be asked to wait outside or to go home and will be advised to wait to hear from staff whether or not the patient will be admitted or discharged
- One person may accompany the patient in A&E if they meet the exemption criteria listed above
- In addition, if the patient has a mental health condition, learning disability or autism and a family member is supporting the patient, these individuals should also be permitted and are considered as a carer and not counted as a visitor

This practice was developed in line with the national directive and initial guidance issued by NHSE England (April 2020).

On 6th June 2020, the directive by NHSE/I to suspend visiting was lifted and new guidance was issued. As it is essential that any practice change during COVID-19 must ensure the safety of both patients and staff as a paramount priority to prevent spread of the corona virus, the Trust decision at this time is to maintain the current position outlined above of compassionate visiting only. It is not considered at this time possible to maintain safe social distancing and operate Covid-secure bays across the hospital with an increase of visitor footfall.

Monitoring:

This policy is subject to the Quality Impact Assessment on visiting which outlines the governance processes to assess the potential risks and benefits if the Trust were to change the current position.

Public feedback will be monitored through Complaints and PALS received in Trust and through the Patient, Carer and Public Engagement Steering Group. This position will be monitored by a specific task and finish group in August,

Policy Overview:

Worcestershire Acute Hospitals Trust is fully committed to implementing a person-centered approach to the design and delivery of health care for patients and their families, carers and friends, who access our services. The trust believes that responding to the needs of our patients, carers and visitors will further enhance the development of a person-centered healthcare service.

Our staff are committed to responding to the needs and expectations of patients and they understand the invaluable role that a patients' family, carer, relatives and friends can make in a patients' recovery. These individuals and groups know the patient best and can help to reassure patients in times of uncertainty, anxiety and/or vulnerability.

Feedback from patients, carers and their families during public consultations on "Quality Priorities" in 2018, told us that traditional and fixed visiting hours "contribute to additional stress" and do not support modern lifestyles.

Positive feedback from a staff survey includes a recognition that relaxing visiting hours supports patient experience, bringing comfort, less stress, numerous staff benefits and improving visitor work-life balance. Concerns have been addressed in Our Visitor's Charter and accompanying policy.

The public shared that relaxing the visiting times would improve the service particularly with modern living and working practices and travel, allowing them to visit their loved ones not only in a way that was convenient for them but in turn they felt would benefit the patient in hospital.

Open visiting hours is one way that as a trust we can recognize the important role that relatives, loved ones, friends and carers play in supporting patients in their recovery.

1. Introduction

This policy is underpinned by the trust's Quality Improvement Strategy and the Patient, Carer, Operational Plan.

This policy supports our ability to be a responsive service and well led. It is our ambition to create a culture of learning, openness and transparency and this policy will further support our trust to drive forward with key quality improvements.

This policy reflects modern living and is in direct response to national good practice as well as public and staff feedback in Worcestershire. This policy supports our trust to remove blanket restrictions on visiting which are seen as incompatible with person centred care and also supports necessary restrictions so that patients' interests are protected.

This policy supports the principles of the NHS Constitution that "NHS Services must reflect, and should be co-ordinated around and tailored to, the needs and preferences of patients, their families and their carers" (Department of Health, 2015). This provides the trust with a service that is person centred as opposed to provider centered.

As a trust if we can put patients first, it means that we can be responsive to choice, preference and convenience. People are working full time and longer hours and may have extended travelling times due to new ward openings and location of specific services.

As a trust we have received feedback through our PALS and Complaints services that the variety of visiting times and practices that currently exist across our acute hospitals can be confusing for patients and visitors, particularly as they are often required to access services on different sites. It is therefore recognised that clarity is needed alongside flexibility to enable people to visit loved ones at convenient times to them.

Many hospitals across the country now operate a relaxed or open visiting policy. Pilots and research has demonstrated that patients feel more relaxed, reassured and that allowing an enabling family members to come and go at various times can promote rest because there is no urgency for the patient to be awake at specific times for visitation.

This policy has been created following a consultation process with staff and engagement with the public via open conversations and facilitated focus groups.

To support staff and visitors "Our Visitor's Charter" will be promoted across the trust using all forms of available communication. This Charter which has also been developed following good practice nationally and with the direct input of staff and the public details expectations from staff and the public and stands as a code of expected behaviours. This Charter covers core areas including but not exhaustive of cleanliness, exceptions, noise and fosters open communication. The Charter addresses key concerns as raised by staff and the public.

2. Scope of this document

This policy applies to all Trust staff and volunteers involved in patient care and improving patient and carer experience.

This policy applies to all acute adult inpatient areas across WAHT.

The policy is designed to move away from the traditional scheduled and restricted visiting arrangements in favour of a more flexible approach and extended visiting times.

It is acknowledged that ongoing dialogue and communication between staff and visitors is required. Clinical staff should use their professional judgement when applying discretion and flexibility to meet visitor / relatives and patient need.

3. Visiting Times

Open or relaxed visiting promotes an environment in which the patient establishes visiting parameters that best suit individual circumstances. The ultimate goal is to meet the psychological and emotional needs of the patient and those who comprise the patient's support system through flexible visiting. A visitor is defined as anyone who the patient determines is significant to their well-being and whose presence would enhance their time in hospital.

Open visiting arrangements will be between: - 10:00 and 22.00 hours

This flexible visiting arrangement will be across the entire 7 day week.

4. Exemptions

This policy applies to all adult acute inpatient areas.

V Policies relating to visiting Paediatrics and Maternity can be found independently of this policy. Critical care and high dependency units retain visiting hour restrictions in the interest of patient safety and recovery. This will be visible on Our Visitor's Charter.

5. Roles and responsibilities

It is the responsibility of all staff to support and promote person centered patient care and the implementation of Open Visiting times. However the Ward Sister and Lead Nurse are required to ensure that the policy related to their specific service area is implemented and that relatives and patients are informed of the flexible visiting time arrangements. Wherever possible this discussion should be had with the patient and their carer during the admission process.

The WAHT website <https://www.worcsacute.nhs.uk/> will be used to inform carers and visitors of visiting times and arrangements. The website is an efficient way to update the public.

Posters should be clearly displayed at the entrance to every unit / ward. Leaflets should be available to all visitors and patients.

Communication tools (A4 posters and smaller posters as handouts) can be ordered through Xerox: WR5482

Orders can be made via the online system: <https://cmswebshop.corp.xerox.com/nhsw>

Contact details: 01905 794168 or email wah-tr.printroom@nhs.net

6. Definitions

Exemptions: Free from obligation, i.e. ward areas to which this policy does not apply

Open and relaxed: Allowing access, not closed, responsive to change, less rigid

Protected Mealtimes: A scheme to allow patients to eat their meals without disruption from hospital activities/interventions and enable staff to focus on providing assistance to those patients unable to eat independently and without families present to support.

Carers are encouraged to support with eating and drinking during these times.

Visiting: To come and see someone in hospital with view to providing emotional and psychological support. Visitors will also be able to participate in care delivery where appropriate.

7. Implementation/Policy Compliance

7.1 Awareness

Our Visitor's Charter should be displayed (see Appendix 1) at the entrance to the clinical area. Our Charter (See Appendix 2) is available to place adjacent to the ward visiting sign. It is important that this is explained clearly to the patient and their relatives, ideally on admission. An information leaflet is also available to distribute to patients and relatives (see Appendix 3).

The visiting schedule offers flexibility for relatives and patients. It is of importance to explain clearly that visiting is open between the set hours and that there is no obligation to stay for the full duration of the visiting time. However, person-centered health care recognizes the important role caregivers and families / friends play in the lives of patients and staff should discuss with family / friends and caregivers the role they would like to play in helping to provide care to their relative whilst in the hospital. Some may see hospitalization as a respite of sorts from their daily responsibilities, while others want to retain an active role.

Staff should inform both patients and their relatives that where possible healthcare staff will work around the visiting time to optimise the flexibility. However when this is not possible and patients require care, treatments or examinations during visiting time, which may interrupt their visiting, visitors should be advised of this beforehand where possible. Visitors should also be informed that during visiting times, they may be asked to leave the room or ward if staff need to attend to the patient or carry out cleaning duties. Staff should also inform visitors that in order to maintain patient confidentiality visitors will also be asked to leave during medical ward rounds. There may also be times where patients are required to leave the ward to go for tests or scans. Staff should advise visitors that where possible they will be given notice of this, however there may be occasion when visitors attend and patients are not on the ward.

Information about canteens/cafeterias/vending machines should be made available for visitors to minimise any inconvenience if they have to wait a while before being able to return to the ward.

7.2 Mealtimes

Staff should not exclude visitors from assisting. It is important to encourage relatives and carers to continue to be involved in the mealtime experience of the patient. This is particularly the case where the patient requires assistance at mealtimes and this is part of the patient's existing or future meal time experience.

If a patient does not require assistance staff should be guided by the patient as to whether it is appropriate to protect mealtimes so that the patient has an environment that supports them to get the most nutrition and benefit from the food provided.

7.3 Number of Visitors

Staff must ensure that there are only 2 visitors per patient at any given time. Visitors may need to be reminded politely of the Visitor's Charter and provided with information about canteens and cafeterias. This is to support staff as well as patients in our hospitals.

7.4 Special Considerations

It is recognized that there are occasions when the number of visitors may exceed two per bed and when visitors may wish to stay for longer periods than outlined within the policy, including overnight. Examples of this would be when the patient is at the end of life or patients with cognition problems who are agitated overnight.

In situations where more than two visitors are allowed per patient this must be agreed by the Nurse in charge and be communicated across the team so that all staff members are reacting appropriately and consistently.

It should be noted that as a trust we support John's Campaign. This means that we support the right of carers to stay with people with dementia. Further details are available in the trust's Carers Policy and by speaking with our Dementia Team or Patient Experience Lead Nurse.

7.5 Staff Availability During Visiting Times

It is important that staff are available to speak with relatives during visiting times. If the shift hand over occurs during visiting time it is important to identify a member of staff who will be available to speak with relatives if requested. This member of staff should be from the shift going off duty.

7.6 Infant, Children and Young People visiting

Only the children or grandchildren of the patient will be allowed to visit. Visiting of infants, children and young people is at the discretion of the Nurse in Charge. All children must remain under direct supervision from family members at all times. It is recognised that children might be in the position of being a young carer for a relative. In these circumstances they may visit unsupervised and stay for the length of normal visiting. It is encouraged that staff refer to the Carer's Policy for further guidance on Young Carers. The Visitor's Charter advises visitors to talk to the nurse in charge before bringing children in to visit.

7.7 Infection Control

Infection control in hospitals is very important. To help stop the spread of infection all patients, visitors and staff entering or leaving the ward must use the hand hygiene gel available in dispensers. Visitors must utilise chairs provided and not sit on beds.

Visitors should be advised that they should contact the person in charge before visiting if they are unsure of the infectious status of the person they are visiting within a hospital setting. They should also be informed of appropriate infection control precautions, including PPE and hand hygiene, to be carried out when visiting.

NB Staff should advise all visitors that they should not visit if they have signs of a cough, cold or diarrhoea / vomiting or have been in contact with an infectious disease, e.g. chicken pox. They should be advised to contact NHS Direct or their GP for advice.

8.0 Monitoring

This policy will be monitored through Patient Services (PALS and Complaints teams) and through the Patient Carer Operational Group which is a sub-group of the Clinical Governance Committee. This policy will be revised formally at the agreed review date.

Appendix 1 – Our Visitors Charter

Our Visitors' Charter

We have a policy of 'open visiting' on our wards from 10am to 10pm*.

We recognise the important role that relatives, loved ones, friends and carers play in supporting patients in their recovery. We have developed this Charter to ensure that open visiting is beneficial to everyone.

You can expect our staff to:

- ✓ Be polite to everyone
- ✓ Avoid making unnecessary noise
- ✓ Welcome all visitors when this is in the patient's best interests
- ✓ Keep each patient's next-of-kin / named contact well informed (with the patient's permission)
- ✓ Put patient care first, which might mean sometimes asking visitors to leave
- ✓ Talk to visitors about how to make the most of their time on the ward
- ✓ Ensure patients have the opportunity to rest and recover
- ✓ Offer advice on how best to support the patient, and help visitors when asked
- ✓ Speak to visitors about the issues that can arise when children visit
- ✓ Listen to visitors' comments and feedback
- ✓ Protect patients and visitors from infections and diseases

We ask you to:

- ✓ Be polite to everyone
- ✓ Keep noise levels low and speak quietly
- ✓ Let staff know when you intend to visit, and for how long
- ✓ Remember that staff may need permission from the patient to share information
- ✓ Don't distract staff doing important work, such as giving out medicine
- ✓ Agree visiting times with other family and friends, so that patients do not have more than two visitors at a time
- ✓ Take breaks away from the bedside to allow the patient to rest
- ✓ Support the patient, and feel confident to ask staff for help with this
- ✓ Talk to the nurse in charge before bringing children to visit
- ✓ Tell us what you think about the care the patient is receiving
- ✓ Follow hygiene rules and stay away if unwell

Our critical care and high dependency units retain visiting hour restrictions in the interest of patient safety and recovery.*
